++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Showers and brighter spells. Cool in brisk winds.

Today:
Seasonally cool in the fresh to strong north to northwest winds. Mixture of bright and sunny spells with showers, these wintry to quite low levels initially, also occasionally heavy late morning and early afternoon, bringing risk of hail and thunder. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Limited early evening brightness, between occasional showers, these largely dying out from late evening. Most dry and clear overnight, combining with light inland winds to bring frost to some. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Friday:
Cold but generally dry start with occasional bright and sunny spells. Showers bubbling up from late morning, but outbreaks lighter than Thursday. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Fair start to Saturday, but strengthening winds and periods of rain soon spreading from southwest. Thereafter showers or longer periods of rain, heavy at times.
